_ a scientific description _ a proposed taxonomic description indicated above. The The deposits were accompanied by. deposits were received September 18, 1998 by this International Depository Authority and have been accepted.

X We will not inform you of requests for the strains. AT YOUR REQUEST:_

The strains will be made available if a patent office signatory to the Budapest Treaty certifies one's right to receive, or if a U.S. Patent is issued citing the strains, and ATCC is instructed by the United States Patent & Trademark Office or the depositor to release said strains.

If the cultures should die or be destroyed during the effective term of the deposit, it shall be your responsibility to replace them with living cultures of the same.

The strains will be maintained for a period of at least 30 years from date of deposit, or five years after the most recent request for a sample, whichever is longer. The United States and many other countries are signatory to the Budapest Treaty.

The viability of the cultures cited above was tested October 8, 1998 On that date, the cultures were viable.
